

STOP CHEMICAL SPRAYING ON HOLLYWOOD BEACH!

Glyphosate? Not
on our sand.

ACT NOW TO KEEP OUR BEACH CHEMICAL-FREE!

What just happened?

- The California Coastal Commission quietly granted the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers permission to spray the chemical glyphosate on the beach dunes to control weeds.
- No community vote, no public consent.

Why we must act now

1. Glyphosate is classified as a carcinogen. Kids, surfers, pets, and wildlife all come in direct contact with treated sand.
2. Spray today, residue tomorrow. Wind can carry particles across the entire shoreline.
3. Safe mechanical-only methods for removing beach weeds exist—but agencies rarely choose them unless we demand it.

Our clear demand

1. Immediate stop to all chemical applications on Hollywood Beach.
2. Legally binding promise that no chemicals will ever be used on Hollywood Beach.
